Chapter Management Program

The Principle of Leadership calls us to perform our leadership duty, no matter what our position in our chapter. Your first chapter duties may be to vote thoughtfully and responsibly in chapter meetings and to serve on a chapter committee. These responsibilities are not to be taken lightly. As you progress in your membership you may be called upon to serve as a committee chairman or even a chapter officer. Your ability to perform in these higher offices will rest upon the skills you have built along the way. The Principle of Leadership demands that we accept personal responsibility for the whole Fraternity, doing whatever is needed to fulfill our role. In an elected office, the responsibility becomes even greater. We are entrusted with the care of others. More than this, we are entrusted with not just the now, but with the history of our chapter. We must do what is right, whether or not it is popular.

Elected Officers and Divisions

There are four divisions in the chapter management program, each administered by an elected vice president. The vice presidents are equal. However, in the absence of the president, there is a line of succession. It is: 1) Executive Vice President, 2) Vice President of Membership, 3) Vice President of Programs, 4) Vice President of Finance. Most other positions come under the administration of one of the divisions. Members filling these positions are generally appointed by the officer in charge of the division, with the advice and consent of the chapter.

Appointed Offices

There are many important leadership roles in the Fraternity. Every office is important. Most are functional offices to which members are appointed. Sometimes, service in one of these offices is a prelude for advancement to an elected office. Just as often, a member will find that an appointed office fits his talents perfectly, and it is in this role that he makes his greatest leadership contribution to the Fraternity. Often a member will serve in more than one role. For example, a member serving as chapter secretary will likely also serve as a member of a recruitment committee and perhaps even as a big brother in the fraternal education program, thereby fulfilling three important chapter functions. The quality of a member's service in an appointed office is the key criteria of suitability for elected office.

Advisory Board

Sigma Tau Gamma has long understood the value of strong advisors. They provide continuity in spite of annual turnover of the Executive Board. Advisors serve as mentors, coaches, and trainers for our chapter officers and members.

A strong chapter seeks advisors. A full Advisory Board consists of an Alumni Advisor, who is an alumni member of Sigma Tau Gamma, chosen without regard for chapter affiliation; a Faculty Advisor, employed by the university that serves as host to the chapter as a member of the faculty or staff; and a Membership Advisor, Programs Advisor, and Finance Advisor, each of whom may be a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, a faculty or staff member of the host university, or a respected member of the community, parent, or friend of Sigma Tau Gamma.

The Alumni Advisor is typically, but not necessarily elected to serve as Advisory Board Chairman. His primary contact is the Chapter President. The Faculty Advisor works primarily with the Executive Vice President and the executive division. The Membership Advisor, Programs Advisor, and Finance Advisor work primarily with their respective vice president and division.

A campus Greek Advisor may also serve as a member of the Advisory Board and works primarily with the Chapter President and Executive Vice President.

The Advisory Board shall meet monthly with the Executive Board. A member of the Advisory Board shall attend the weekly meetings of the Collegiate Chapter.

Judicial Board

The Chapter Judicial Board is composed of three undergraduate members, an alumnus member and a chapter advisor. The undergraduate members (together with one alternate) are elected each semester. The Chapter Judicial Board resolves questions of interpretation of the chapter by-laws and has original member discipline jurisdiction.

When considering issues of interpretation of chapter by-laws, the Chapter Judicial Board must be careful to avoid any decision that places the chapter in conflict with the Constitution, Laws or Policies of the national Fraternity. The publication Constitution & Laws and Policies is available from the Fraternity Headquarters. It is the definitive source for this information. Care should be taken to reference the most recent edition of this publication.

The Judicial Board Manual contains the Due Process Procedures Policy Statement. This statement describes exactly how to proceed with issues of member discipline. If the Judicial Board fails to follow these procedures as stated, appellate boards will be forced to reverse its decisions.

It would be unfair to elect Judicial Board members after an issue of interpretation is raised, or after a member is charged with a violation requiring Judicial Board action. Therefore, Judicial Board member must be elected at the beginning of each semester.

PRESIDENT

The President is the chief elected officer of the chapter. In this capacity he presides over meetings of the chapter. As the presiding officer, he sets the agenda, monitors all activities and serves as spokesman for the chapter. Perhaps his most important task is communication. That is two way communication, facilitating understanding of mission, governance, goals, and expectations throughout the brotherhood

The President also serves as chairman of the chapter Executive Board. The Executive Vice President, Vice President of Membership, Vice President of Programs and Vice President of Finance serve with the President as voting members of the board. Together they form a collaborative leadership council. As elected officers, they are all responsible to the full membership of the chapter. However, the Chapter President is responsible for monitoring each vice president's performance related to chapter goals. The President sets the agenda and must use the agenda to keep the chapter's leadership on track.

The officers appointed by the President serve as ex-officio non-voting members of the Executive Board. The non-elected officers are directly responsible to and supervised by the President. All officer and committee appointments are subject to the advice and consent of the chapter. Advice and consent means that the chapter shall, by simple majority vote to either approve or disapprove an appointment, but may not select through a nomination and election procedure an alternate person for the post.

SECRETARY

The Secretary is appointed by the Chapter President. He is responsible for taking and keeping the minutes of the meetings of the Executive Board and the full chapter, preparing and submitting the required reports to the Fraternity Headquarters, and maintaining the roll of initiates and chapter directory.

As an ex-officio member of the Executive Board and the person directly responsible for the chapter records, the Secretary is in a position to learn a great deal about leading a chapter. Knowing this, wise Chapter Presidents appoint promising underclassmen to this position, in anticipation of their election to a major chapter office in the future.

Secretary

- Maintain current copy of chapter constitution and laws.
- Maintain resource library of Fraternity manuals and publications.

TREASURER

The Chapter Treasurer is appointed by the Chapter President and is responsible to the Executive Board. He also serves with the Vice President of Finance as a part of the Finance Division leadership team.

His duties include monitoring the collection of chapter dues on OmegaFi, deposit of funds in chapter bank accounts, balancing the chapter financial records and bank accounts monthly, preparation and distribution of monthly financial statements to the chapter, and preparation of annual tax reports.

The Treasurer does not disburse any funds (write checks, spend cash or incur debt through vendor accounts.) The disbursement of funds is the function of the Vice President of Finance.

The Treasurer serves as an ex-officio non-voting member of the Executive Board.

Accounting duties are distributed between the Treasurer and Vice President of Finance to comply with accounting rules designed to guard against errors and embezzlement. Therefore, one member may not serve in both capacities.

Similarly, the Treasurer will have access to the OmegaFi Chapter Desktop as a “User” so that he may monitor income and disbursements. This adds an additional layer of checks and balances.

The workbook pages for the Treasurer are in the Finance Division Manual.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

The Sergeant-at-Arms is appointed by the Chapter President and is responsible for meeting room preparation and meeting order and function. He also serves as the Parliamentarian, resolving questions of meeting procedure. He is an ex-officio non-voting member of the Executive Board.

As Parliamentarian, the Sergeant-at-Arms has a responsibility to be familiar with the fundamentals of Parliamentary Procedure.

Parliamentary Procedure is a process formed from the rules of procedure originally used by the British Parliament. The objective was to assure that each representative to the Parliament had equal opportunity to affect the democratic process.

Its first use in our country dates from 1801, when Thomas Jefferson as President of the United States published the first book on Parliamentary Procedure. Jefferson's book became the foundation for the procedural rules of Congress.

In 1876, Henry Martin Roberts, an engineer and general in the United States Army, used Jefferson's earlier work as a foundation and published a book on Parliamentary Procedure for "ordinary societies." His book, Robert's Rules of Order continues to this day to serve as the benchmark for the democratic process in our society.

When Robert's Rules of Order is used to govern chapter proceedings, each member is assured an equal say in the outcome of the democratic process. More than this, each chapter meeting becomes a seminar on the set of rules that will govern every significant democratic interaction that they will experience throughout their lifetimes.

Social interactions as simple as a church meeting and as complex as a public hearing on a zoning variance, all of which may profoundly impact the lives of our members, are subject to rules of procedure – all of which are derived from or strictly adhere to Robert's Rules of Order. As any guy knows, you can't win unless you know the rules of the game. Perhaps then, it goes without saying that we owe it to ourselves to take Robert's Rules of Order seriously.

As Sergeant-at-Arms and the chapter Parliamentarian, do not bow to complaints about enforcing Robert's Rules of Order. They are simply pleas of ignorance. Rather, do your brothers a favor and hold steadfastly to the rules. In the short run, they may complicate matters – only because the membership is still on a learning curve. In the long run they will strengthen the democratic strength of your chapter and the intellectual strength of your members. In a real way, if you are steadfast, you will become a professor of the most fundamental discipline of our society – democracy.

Sergeant-at-Arms

Responsibilities

- Maintain order in chapter meetings.
- Serve as Parliamentarian: Study and be conversant with Robert Rules of Order Revised, chapter Constitution and Laws, Fraternity Constitution, Laws and Policies, and University Student Handbook and Policies.
- Prepare chapter meeting room.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW MADE SIMPLE

Robert's Rules of Order requires that a proposed action, rule or amendment to an existing body of law, such as the chapter bylaws, be stated in the form of a motion before it may be debated. In modern practice, it is okay to discuss informally what members are thinking before the formal proposal of a motion. However, while every idea should be heard, not everyone has to be heard. When brothers start repeating what has already been said, it is time for the President to declare "does anyone have something NEW to say." If the answer is no, it is time to close informal discussion. At this point the President should say: "Do I hear a motion?"

Making a Motion

A motion is made by saying: "I move that:" followed by the intended action.

Normally, a motion requires a second. A member says: "I second the motion."

If the chapter Executive Board or a chapter committee submits a proposal in the form of a motion, no second is required. This is because these subdivisions of the chapter already include more than one person, so by the very fact that they voted as a committee to forward the motion the evidence of a second is apparent.

Debate

After a motion has been made, debate may follow. Debate must be on the motion.

The debate should begin by allowing the person who made the motion to state why he thinks it is a good idea. The President then "recognizes" (calls on) others who have an opinion. No one should be permitted to blurt out his opinion without being recognized by the President. The President may allow the maker of the motion to answer questions. Otherwise, no one person should repeatedly speak to the motion.

Vote

After a sufficient time for debate, a member – or the President – may "call the question." At that point, debate stops and the members vote.

If there are members who want to continue the debate, one of them may object to calling the question, i.e. taking a vote. No second is required. It takes a two-thirds majority to pass an objection to consideration of the question. If it passes, debate continues. If it fails, the question is called and a vote is taken on the motion. (The meaning of "question" in Parliamentary Procedure is: "do we say yes or no to the motion as an organization?")

Amendments

Any motion may be amended. Any member may offer an amendment. To be considered, the amendment must receive a second. If it does not – it dies for the lack of a second. The rules of debate are the same for an amendment as for any other motion.

Once a vote is taken on an amendment, the President or a member may “call the previous question.” That means that he wants to vote on the original motion (as amended if an amendment was passed).

Substitute Motion

If amendments to the original motion become too many or confused, a member may offer a substitute motion. It requires a second. No more than one amendment may be made to a substitute motion.

Table a Motion

Sometimes the chapter has difficulty arriving at a decision and at least some of the members want more time to consider the issue. There are two ways to do this.

One is to table the motion. “I move to table the motion.” A second is required. It must pass by a simple majority. There is no debate. It cannot be amended.

If a motion is tabled, it does not have to come up again. It can stay on the “table” forever, which effectively kills the motion. However, at any future meeting a member may “move to reconsider” a motion that is on the table. Again, there is no debate and this motion may not be amended. It requires a simple majority.

In practice, most of the time members don’t really want to “table” a motion, they want to “postpone” consideration of the motion until a specific future time. The correct motion in this case is: “I move to postpone the question until the next meeting.” It requires a second, is not debatable or amendable and must receive a simple majority vote. In this case, the issue automatically goes on the agenda for consideration at the next meeting.

Quorum, Majority, Super Majority

To conduct business in a meeting an organization must have a quorum of its members present. Unless specifically stated otherwise in the organization bylaws, a quorum is fifty percent (50%) of the members plus one.

Most votes require a simple majority of the members present, provided there is a quorum. A majority is fifty percent (50%) of the members plus one. (For example, if there are forty members present at a meeting and the chapter has sixty members, there is a quorum. If, on the vote on a motion, 20 of those members vote yes and 20 vote no, the motion fails. But, if 21 vote yes, the motion passes.)

A Super Majority is a vote that requires a two-thirds affirmative vote. Some parliamentary motions require a super majority. They are generally motions that seek to cut off debate, object to consideration of a motion, rescind a previous action, or suspend the rules.

There is sometimes confusion over whether the President gets to vote. The answer is YES; the President gets to vote. The same is true for any committee chairman.
