Dear Brother Bernier ,

I know that your chapter likely had great success with homecoming events. Did you enter a float in a parade, decorate your house, compete in a talent or athletic competition? Tell us about it. We would like to give you well deserved recognition in the SAGA. Your alumni also love to read about the successes of your chapter in the SAGA. See the story below.

Washington State Provisional Chapter Installed

Sigma Tau Gamma conducted the Ceremony of Installation at Washington State University on October 11, 2014. The Washington State University provisional chapter initiated 55 new members. This is the first time Sigma Tau Gamma has had a provisional chapter at Washington State University.

Chapter Elections

"Each collegiate chapter shall hold its regular election of officers annually, in November. Chapter officers shall take office no earlier than the first day of December, and shall serve for twelve consecutive months," Section 6, Law 4B Collegiate Chapters.

Chapter elections are underway this November. Follow these practices while you nominate brothers for leadership positions in your chapter:

- Member should be in good academic standing with the university
- Member should be current with dues
- Choose a member who will be good at the specific position and uphold the six Principles
- Hold an officer transitions meeting soon after elections
- Have the new Chapter President register immediately for the Earl A. Webb Academy of Principled Leaders
- Officer update forms are due on December 15, 2014

Themed Events

During the homecoming and Halloween season, many organizations plan themed socials or semi-formals. Selecting appropriate themes reflects on all of the organizations that plan and attend the events.

The following are suggested questions to ask yourself when picking an appropriate event theme:

- Does this theme rely on stereotypes or encourage offensive dress?
- Does this theme stereotype male or female genders?
- Does this theme stereotype races or cultures?
- Is the theme centered on making fun of a particular group?
- Would you be willing to send photos of your event to your parents, national office or college president?

Throughout the year, keep in mind that themed events should always positively represent the values of Sigma Tau Gamma.

Congratulations to our founding fathers at Washington State University. We are proud of these excellent new brothers who will exemplify the Principles of Sigma Tau Gamma at a great university.

Fraternally Yours,

Bill
